Where They Play To-day. Roanoke at Richmond, Norfolk at Lynchburg, Danville at Portsmouth.

Standing of the Clubs. Won. Lost.

Laval, the southput twirler, signed by Manager Charlie Shaffer in Lynchburg this week, pitched a winning game at Brond Street Park yesterday afternoon and Street Park yesterday afternoon and suffered defeat.

It was one of those peculiar things that will happen in a game of base-ball. The left-winged slab artist permitted five Hoanoke batters to connect safely. His opponent, Mr. Diebold, for the Highlanders was found Highlanders, was found by eight Lawmakers, he permitted the same num-ber of men to walk and failed to fan, too, as many men as Laval did, yet the southpaw lost.

Who's to blame?

Nobody can account for the Roanoke victory. That is no one in Richmond can have been supported by the southpay when the southpay we have word the visitors should not have won. For at an opportune time, Diebold, the Highlander twirler, connected rightly. It was Diebold who beat Richmond. He gent the sphere against the center for two sacks, just at the time when two two sacks, just at the time when two runners were assis in the crematory when the runs came over. Roanoke can give their pitcher the credit for the winning of to-day's game.

King Kelly, manager of the visitors, worked like a trojan for his aggregaworked like a trojan for his aggrega-tion, and he played left field as good as any man could have done. In the second inning he relieved Jeter who had a sprained ankle, and the work he did after this was up to the standard.

Were After the Umpire.

Tiere are many who believe that Umpire W. W. Hoffner was responsible for the loss of yesterday's game. There were two questionable decisions. One was when Shaffer sent one to the left garden that brought the grand stand up. The sphere struck very close to the line and there was a difference of opinion as to whether it was a foul or not. But Mr. Hoffner sald it was outside, and this stopped the

The other play that seemed to be wrong The other play that seemed to be wrong was when Laval went from second to third and was called out at the station nearest home. Umpire Hoffner at the time was watching a play at first, and could not have seen the fouch at third, yet he said that Laval could go no further. This would have tied the score and Richmond would have certainly had another show at the It was the same in Lynchburg. Nothing but the hardest luck kept the Lawmakers from taking three games there. It may appear insignificant at the time being to the grand stand and the audience, yet one rank decision will change the entire game. It did it yesterday. Mr. Hoff-ner's eyes will get better as the season progresses.

Notwithstanding the fact that yester-day's game was one of the best played on the local diamond this season, there was very little enthusiasm. The same teams meet each other to-day and Silli will do the pitching for the home boys. Pass may twirt for Roanoke. The official score is as follows:

After a consultation, which will be had to-day, there will likely be no more such scenes on the diamond in Richmond. The people here desire clean basebail and if the umpire errs in judgment they do not believe that it is incumbent upon a player to be dictatorial or insulting.

LYNCHBURG GOES DOWN.

Bentley, Catcher, Hands Lynchburg Game to the Norfolks (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

(Special to the Thies-District.)

LYNCHBURG, VA., May 3.—Bentley, who caught his first game for the locals, handed this afternoon's game to the Tercentennials by missing the third strike on Dingle, the first man up in the first, and then throwing the ball wild to first. Russell forced Dingle at second, and, without the errors, would have been an easy out at first. Evans fanned, making the third chance, and then a home run by Benbow scored Russell ahead of them. Reiss struck out eight men, including the one lost by Bentley, and if his support had been good, the final score would have been 3 to 2 in favor of the locals but the game goes to Norfolk by 4 to 3. Rain stopped the game at the end of the fourth, but two more were played afterwards, until the second storm caused the game to be called. Norfolk played the best game in the field, but the work in the box was ragged. LYNCHBURG, VA., May 3.-Bentley, Heart-Breaking Game Which Was Won After the Ninth Inning.

SUSONG WAS BATTED HARD

Cunningham Pitched a Noble Game, But Made Many Costly

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., May 3.-Virginia defeated Carolina to-day in --third game of the series for the champlonship of the South in a heart-rending

4 to 3. Previous to this game each team had won a game, Carolina defeating Virginia, in Ilichmond, 6 to 1, and Virginia redurceating the next day at Charlotesville, a to 0. The game this evening was the hardest game to lose ever seen on these grounds. Carolina for eight innings, play-ed fine ball, and Cunningham blanked the visitors, striking out ten men. The eighth and ninth, however, proved Carolina's undoing. In the eighth, Walker, after two men had been retired, stole se-cend and third and scored on Harris's fumble of Graham's easy roller. In the ninth, Maddux, for Virginia, hit a high Hanes let drop safe between them. Hoff hit to Cunningham, who threw late to second to catch Maddux, Patterson muffing the throw. Johnson hit an easy one in front of the plate and ran to and Hoff went to third, when Rogers threw to first, hit Johnson on the leg and bounded far into right-field. Mad-dux scored on the play. With the score 3 to 2 in favor of the Tar Heels, Wadson 3 to 2 in favor of the Tar Heels, Wadson was sent to bat for Chandler and went out, pitcher to first. Sussong hit to Cunningham, who threw too late in home to catch Hoff. With Johnson on third, and Sussong on second, Lawler filed to left, and Johnson scored the winning run, when Hanes, threw poorly in home to catch Johnson. Sussons was pounded hard and often by Carolina, but was lucky in the fifth.

Single by Stem, James and Patterson, coupled with Storey's friple, netted three earned runs. In the third inning three lits by Carolina and a rank error via Kirderia's shortstop failed to not haven.

Cunningham pitched a glit-edge game for Carolina, but materially assisted in for Carolina, but materially assisted in losing his own game by his poor fielding. The features other than the closeness of the game, was the excitement and Virginia's game rally, with the three hits by Storey and Grabam, Carolina's hitting and poor fielding and base running and a winning catch by Walker in centrefield for Virginia. An enormous crowd at tended the game. The following is the score:

Do Anything But Pay Rent?

WHY DO YOU NEGLECT the great opportunities lying all around you?

How long have you paid rent? Have you anything but rent receipts to show for what you have paid? Take out that grip full of rent receipts and figure up the total loss through your neglect. Had you saved this money, see the luxuries you could now supply your family.

This month is going by, and $20 more will soon be added to the above total loss. When in the world will you stop this awful drain which is sapping the life and comforts of yourself and family.

Think this matter over to-day. There is no time but now to do this all important thing.

The question with every man is, Poverty or Wealth. This question is decided not by wish or desire, but by prompt and vigorous action in availing himself of the best opportunities lying before him.

It's up to you, What will YOU do? Will you decide now? Time is money! !! Let us help you.
